How to report antisocial behaviour to the police. How can i report anti social behaviour. Can you report anti social behaviour to the police.

If an incident of antisocial behaviour is happening now, call the police on 101. It often leaves victims feeling helpless, desperate and with a seriously reduced quality of life on our estates. Anti-social behaviour is defined as behaviour, whether or not it is itself criminal, 'which causes or is likely to cause harassment, alarm or distress' to other people including behaviour which puts people in fear of crime. Annual return of community trigger applications in accordance with Section 104(9) Antisocial Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014, the following annual details are published Your details will be kept confidential. It includes: noise littering (including drug paraphernalia) kerb crawling nuisance neighbours street drinking vandalism rowdy behaviour We will investigate reports of antisocial behaviour and take them seriously. Report environmental problems. Our procedures include information on types of anti-social behaviour and how we handle reports support you respond to anti-social behaviour incidents and keep you updated Read more about how to respond to anti-social behaviour: anti-social behaviour policy anti-social behaviour procedure Community trigger The community trigger is a process which allows members of the community to ask the community safety partnership to review the responses to their complaints of anti-social behaviour. Council estates or blocks If the antisocial behaviour is happening on a council estate or block, report antisocial behaviour to the Council's Housing Service. You have the right to live in your home without fear of intimidation, nuisance or harassment. Registered housing providers (social landlords) are also included. Antisocial behaviour is behaviour which causes or is likely to cause harassment, alarm or distress to other people, including behaviour that puts people in fear of crime. Our general policy statement outlines our general approach to anti-social behaviour. The group will review how the partnership has responded and make recommendations on how the problem can be resolved. It cannot be used to report general crime or ASB. We will investigate all reports of anti-social behaviour and take them seriously. Who you should report antisocial behaviour to depends on where it is happening: Streets, public spaces, parks Email asbteam@hackney.gov.uk or call 020 8356 3310. A response will be sent to you explaining the action taken and also suggestions on how the partnership can attempt to resolve the antisocial behaviour. The trigger may be used if you believe we have not responded to your complaints. It often leaves victims feeling helpless, desperate and with a seriously reduced quality of life. If the application meets the threshold for a trigger, a meeting will take place between the appropriate partners to discuss the antisocial behaviour and what actions have been considered and taken. Report noise Report noise Report other antisocial behaviour Please provide as much detail as you can on when, where, who, what happened and the impact of the behaviour, along with your contact details, to give us a better chance of being able to help. You can move around with your keyboard Drop pin on the map to start a new report Anti-social behaviour covers a wide range of unacceptable activity that affects the lives of many people on a daily basis.
